Supervisor Burke made the following statement:

“The 17,000 Graduate and Professional students at the University of Southern California are the future teaching professionals, doctors, engineers, lawyers, business, political and cultural leaders of our State and nation. Through their hard work and research efforts, USC Graduate and Professional students also contribute to the economic strength and vitality of our great County. USC Graduate and Professional students are developing the skills needed to compete in the highly-competitive global marketplace of the future, and are, through their studies, increasing the sum of the world’s knowledge.

“Graduate and Professional students in Taiwan, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, China and the United States will be honored by Graduate leaders, their faculty, and the University administrators during the month of April. The Board of Supervisors encourages all Los Angeles County citizens to recognize the contributions of a graduate education and the USC Graduate and Professional students.”

Therefore, on motion of Supervisor Burke, and by common consent, there being not objection, the Board proclaimed March 31 through April 4, 2008 as “University of Southern California Graduate and Professional Student Appreciation Week” throughout the County of Los Angeles.
